PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The Trustees and Members of the Governing Board are happy to present the 47th Annual Report for 2013-14 of the India Sponsorship Committee (ISC).

Through the continued generous support of our donors and sponsors ISC has been able to continue its efforts to meet its objectives.

Our flag ship project, Antar Bharati Balgram, which was established in 1972, continues serving the destitute children of the region. Though due to current government regulations, we have had to change, we continue to evolve and ensure that each child gets a fair share from life today. Maintaining this forty year old institution cuts into our financial reserves the most, and it is an uphill task ensuring the safety and security of our children.

Education is emphasized and the Antar Bharati Balgram School, on campus, is now an English medium school, so as to make our children more adaptable to current needs for future rehabilitation in society. Computers, e-learning and modern educational methods are encouraged and regular training workshops are held for the staff and children. Our Math Fair, in February, was a first time mega event of this nature and the enthusiasm of the children and staff has encouraged us to hold more such programs in the future. Girls are especially encouraged to study further and become financially secure, before we help them settle into matrimony.

Vocational rehabilitation also made strides to upgrade to better levels and from advancing to Industrial Training Center, we are now a government recognized private Industrial Training Institute (ITI). We continue our association with the L&T Public Charitable Trust, who continue to guide us in improving the facilities and training programs here. Our students from Balgram as well as the surrounding rural villages study the trades of welder and electrical technology, and besides having a 100% pass record, many of them are able to find jobs in the neighbouring industrial townships.

Our Pune project also continues its services to the marginalized sections in society. Our good rapport with the various Pune Municipal Schools is appreciated and we are invited to be on their School Management Committees. The children are encouraged not only in academics, but we now have a children's band, playing various musical instruments, and our sports day, Bal Dhamaal, is a red letter day on the annual calendar. Child's Rights, women empowerment, early childhood program and gender issues are the social causes which have now come into more focus. The awareness of the children in these issues is tremendous, and they really are the agents of change, as desired.

It was with deep regret that we had to close down our School Based Educational Support Project in Sion, Mumbai. The Mumbai Municipal Corporation had given an undertaking to the High Court, that all private offices and NGOs occupying space in their various schools would be asked to vacate. Since we were operating from within the School premises we had to vacate our room from the Joglekarwadi Municipal School at Sion from March 31, 2014. As rentals of premises in the neighbourhood were most prohibitive, we were forced to close, not only to our disappointment, but also to the dismay of the 200 children who we have been supporting for more than twenty years.

At the Annual General Meeting of 2013, Dr. Zulie Nakhoda, our Managing Trustee, had announced her retirement due to advancing age. The mantle of carrying forward her legacy now falls on the current Board to ensure that the institutions she established, along with her like minded friends, should continue and improve with each advancing year. Founder Trustee, Dr. Nakhoda continues to be on our Board, and is a repository of infinite wisdom that continues to guide us when problems crop up.

We look forward to the continued support of our well-wishers, sponsors and donors, and we would sincerely appreciate if they could help expand this circle by inviting more of their friends to join in supporting our cause too.

Thanking you once again for your support,

Harsha Parekh
President

ANTAR BHARATI BALGRAM

Set amidst the rolling hills of the Deccan ranges, Antar Bharati Balgram offers an oasis of peace to the over hundred children who have been sent by the state department of Women & Child Welfare. Coming either as orphans or from destitute homes, most of these children have not had a normal childhood as per the UN Convention on the Rights of a Child. Shelter, clothing nutritious food and of course a proper education are all ensured here by ISC and most of them have graduated to successful integration into normal society over the years.

With an over vigilante media and a government who tries to bring modern methods of child development into focus, various rules are introduced, and at times it has been difficult to adjust to them. In 2011, the government ruled that all homes could either take girls or boys. Seeing our genuine care and expense incurred for the children, we have been allowed to retain children of both sexes for the time being. However, there is immense pressure to integrate them into society by the age of 18 years, which is the official limit. Thereafter all the senior children who continue to stay with us are at our total expense. We have now the additional cost of higher education as well as basic cost of living etc. to be borne for these children.

Academic:

This year we achieved 100% results for pre primary, primary and secondary section. In Std. X Board exams, three girls and two boys passed successfully and took admission in different disciplines. Seven Children studying in XI also passed successfully.

With good academics comes fun time:

- Summer camp had various activities like drawing, craft, dance, swimming, cycling, Spoken English, karate, computer, music classes, indoor & outdoor games etc.
- Picnic for Balgram Children was organized at Alibaug from 29th- 31st May, 2013. The children visited Murud, Janjeera and beaches around Alibaug and experienced the culture of the Konkan region.
- One day picnic was organized at Kumar's Water Park. Children played various water games, slides and swimming and enjoyed the picnic.

The main focus of the ISC Pune Project has been on promoting and protecting the rights of the socially & economically disadvantaged children in its project area covering the slum settlements in and around Yeravada and the brick kilns on the outskirts of Pune city. While the main thrust is education, gender issues were given equal importance.

Overall goal:

To create an environment and support system for the marginalized sections of society that will help in the empowerment process of women and protect and promote the rights of the most vulnerable children from these sections of society, especially the girl child.

Immediate Objectives:

- To enroll and retain children in Mainstream Education and keep them out of Child Labor.
- To assist needy children cope with their studies.
- To develop reading skills in children attending Municipal schools.
- To bring about a change in gender stereotyped behavior patterns.

- To create awareness on Child Rights & Gender issues.
- To promote a child's right to participate in her/his own development.
- To assist mothers and care-givers in understanding the developmental stages from birth to the age of five.

The four main components of the project are:

1. 'Aarambh' Very Early Childhood Development.

The programme in Yeravada supported by Asha for Education, Seattle and Interaide, also proved to be more and more successful in as much as most of the children in the project area are not only retained in school (the drop-out rate being negligible), but are improving their grades and showing leadership qualities. The Very Early Child Care (VECD) component is geared to look at the development stages in a child's growth right from the start with an added focus on celebrating the birth of a girl child.

Gender sensitization is the other component interwoven into the Education programme of the Pune project.

The Girl Gift Basket is a unique way of welcoming the birth of a girl child right at the hospital. For this, ISC got the required permission to liaise with the government run hospitals in Pune and also donors for the gift basket. 12 such baskets were distributed. We talked with each family specially father of girl child and all those around, including the nurses, explaining to them the needs for parenting a girl child. We also spoke of the importance of education for girl.

6. Highlights and Achievements

Around 700 children participated in the Annual sports day with the help of 120 volunteers from the corporate and Educational institutions.

The annual Bal Dhamaal – our most popular activity – looked forward to by children & volunteers alike!

A visit to the Science park gave the children a hands-on knowledge of some of the scientific realities.

A few children also participated in the Maths fair at ISC Balgram.

5 children from the brick kilns who began their education with the support classes passed the SSC exam with three of them getting a 1st class and two a 2nd class.

INDIA SPONSORSHIP COMMITTEE

Similarly, in Yeravada slums 10 of ISC's students secured a 1st class in the X and XII.

ISC was permitted to conduct the 'Read to Learn' and Personality development programme in the neighbouring PMC schools.

ISC has cooperated with some of the schools for the implementation of the Right to Education Act and even succeeded in actively becoming part of the School management committee (SMCs) in two instances. The frequent meetings with the parents and the school authorities was effective in bringing about this acceptance from the parents.

Our very own ISC Band.

The different workshops held had very positive results:

a) Workshops on De addiction: 102 ISC youth were shown them a movie called 'Valan' on de addiction. The youth were surprised to meet the character Chinmay who had played a role in that movie. A healthy discussion followed both on the issue and on the child's role in the movie.

b) Theatre Workshop: 25 children had a 2-day Theatre workshop. They learnt theatre skills like: voice, clarity of words, tone, expression, body language, group work, individual role, miming, drawing, etc. The outcome was children made a script on Female foeticide. They did plays in front of 'Ganesh Mandals', community as well as their various PMC Schools in the school Assembly.

ISC 's work through the eyes of the parents:

Parents are the next important stakeholders in ISC's work with children. It is therefore important to constantly engage with the parents through monthly meetings and discussion on child development related topics.

From the brick kiln parents:

1. "With our children attending the balwadi, we were more productive in our work as we did not have to look after them. Also they would play in the wet clay and that was not good"
2. "The older children now like going to school and don't stay home even if they need to for house work"
3. "Because of your classes in the 'bhatti' our children get free classes, food and other gifts as well".
4. "Our children can now keep accounts of our household expenses."
5. "Thanks to the meetings you hold with the parents, our husbands as well as the brick kiln owners no more abuse us."

OUR CHILDREN – THE AGENTS OF CHANGE: "YES WE CAN"

1. Pranita is active in 'Bal Sakhi' the child participation group that ISC has been promoting for child rights. This is what her mother has to say: 'Pranita is confident and able to speak her mind when she notices any bad behavior. ISC Swapnatai is teaching children good behavior practices.

INDIA SPONSORSHIP COMMITTEE

2. ISC helps out with a child counseling case: 'The child has changed and improved in her studies, thanks to ISC', says the school teacher of the Acharya Atre school in Yeravada.

The children from the brick kiln succeeded in putting right certain wrongs in their schools. Two such occasions were:

- Approaching the Headmaster when a school teacher was demanding fees from students. This was duly corrected.
- Taking up the case of some of their peers who moved into the brick kilns and were not getting admission in school. They discussed the issue with the head master and got the children into school.
- Laxmi Age 15: Shared and supported in solving 4 cases; one of child sexual abuse, another of cruelty, a third of child marriage, and another regarding child protection. This information was crucial for ISC to get institutions like Childline, the CWC and the police department to take necessary action. Laxmi is one of the 25 students of the Child participation group who is developing great leadership qualities.
- Sakshi Age 10: She took 3 children Sachin, Nisha and Durga who had dropped out of school, back to school. She explained their situation to the teacher and got them re-enrolled in school.
- Pranita, age 13, Kailas age 16, Sonu age 13: Pranita talked to parents and relatives and shared child marriage law. She and her friends talked to the girl explaining to her the disadvantage of child marriage. The parents of the three were impressed with their children and told us they were proud of them.

- Pranita, Vaishnavi & Nikita: Made an RTE presentation at the press conference of Patrakar Bhavan. This news was covered in news paper and DNA Lokmat news channel. Children felt confident and proud.

Child Sexual Abuse

A 14 year old girl studying in Yerwada school was sexually abused by a married man. ISC started intervening and with the help of "Alochana", an NGO that works on sexual abuse cases. We investigated and with Alochana motivated the girl and her mother to file a case against that man. The case was filed, all legal procedure done, and the accused is in jail under POCSO ACT while the girl is safe in a residential home. On following up the case we find that she is becoming confident, learning new skills and developing a positive attitude towards life.

Domestic violence

Our ISC student shared the case, where a father was severely beating the children and mother. This was affecting their studies. ISC intervened and motivated the mother to raise her voice against her husband. Child Line intervened and got the police to take action. This has brought a change in the father while ISC goes on working to improve the mother's confidence.

Child marriage

Two child marriage cases took place in Suraksha Nagar community. We were not in time to stop the marriages but we informed the CWC who took action; they sent the protection officer to the in-laws home and made a written document for the security of these girls.

SCHOOL BASED EDUCATIONAL SUPPORT PROJECT (SION)

Background

The School Based Educational Support Project run by India Sponsorship Committee was started in 1995 in collaboration with Sadhana Educational Society at Mumbai. In 1998, it was shifted to Joglekarwadi Municipal School, Sion, at Mumbai. Under the project, 200 children are being sponsored from groups surviving on daily wages.

However, the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation had given an undertaking to the Bombay High Court, that all offices of private companies as well as NGOs would be cleared from the school premises so as to free space for other academic activities for the benefit of the children. Hence, from April 2014, we were forced to close this project as the cost of renting premises in the neighbourhood of the school was very prohibitive.

Objective

The main objective of the project is to promote education by preventing drop-outs from the school.

200 students of the project and were provided educational aids like uniform, umbrellas, footwear, bags and stationery requirements for schooling with support from the Nanhi Kali project of K. C. Mahindra Trust.

Support classes, health care, counseling is provided to prevent the children from dropping out of school.

ACTIVITIES:

Extra Study Classes: Total 75 students from 1st std to 10th std from all the three medium (Marathi, Hindi, Tamil) are taking benefit of extra study classes, managed by the project staff.

S.S.C. Exam for the Year 2010-11: Fifteen students appeared for SSC Exam from 3 different medium. All the sponsored girls passed the exam.

Counseling: Whenever the child faces any problem in her personal life, they were counseled, which helped them to overcome their problems and motivated them to perform better.

appreciated by the community members and encouragement was gained by the play.

Screening of documentaries and movies: Movie screenings provide a break from routine class activities and generate awareness as well. With the help of AVEHI, various Educational and Entertainment films were shown. “Stanley Ka Dabba” was screened because it carried an important message of sharing hidden in the cover of entertainment. Tiffin-boxes, Child Labour and School environment were easily identified with. Other educative films like “Series of Meena”, “Hame Bataaya Mammu Ne” and documentaries and art films “Kahani Nahan Ki, Aprajitha, Ek Savera Aayegaa & Shala” were also screened. It was observed that a message delivered through a movie is more effective than other methods.

Outing: Students were taken for a visit to the Chhtrapati Shivaji Maharaj Vastu Sangrahalaya. Different sections portraying natural history to paintings from India and abroad were covered. The special attraction was the “Cyrus Cylinder” kept on display for a month.

INDIA SPONSORSHIP COMMITTEE

Annual Function: On 1st February, the Annual Day celebration had different cultural programmes put up by the students. An exhibition of the art and craft items made by the students was displayed. A magic show was organized for the children. Prize distribution ceremony for events and achievements all year round was held. It also helped the students to work within the group and help each other.

- Indoor and outdoor games developed team spirit among the students and to integrate skills into a united effort so that each individual's goal achievement is connected to the greater overall team goal achievement.
- Sand Art and painting with Vegetables (bhindi) was organized for children.

INDIA SPONSORSHIP COMMITTEE

- Apart from the project activities sponsored girls participated in various inter school competitions like - Frolic Competition, Cultural Function, Shlokas Competition, Drawing Competition, Sports Competition, Essay Competition, etc.

WORKSHOP:

- AVEHI organized a day workshop at their center. Ms Archana Kale and Mr. Deepesh attended the workshop. The workshop was planned and designed to emphasize the importance of media facilitation. They provided insights as well as increase skill for handling and facilitating media that can lead to enhanced community work.

Field Work: Field Work is the main component of Social Work Education. Two students, Mr. Chetan Rajora and Ms. Ankita Bose, from TISS joined for their placement at the SBES Project.
